

Infield Players For the Giants are In Good Condition For the Season

Yankees Have Great Time In Bermuda

Scribes and Mascots Want Pie on Their Bill of Fare, but the Peerless Leader Refuses to Yield—Island May Be Selected for Permanent Camp.

By HARRY GLASER.

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 10.—It is more than probable that Bermuda will be the Yankees' permanent spring training quarters. Although it is a bit early to figure on what weather the future may hold or how it may affect the players, the conditions to date have been so propitious that a continuance of the same would undoubtedly bring this about.

Business manager Arthur Irwin and manager Chance are delighted with the place, and the players also share their views. The conditions are so much superior to those met in the south that there appears to be only one choice. Irwin has traveled all over the country as a scout and player. He is one of the best informed baseball men in the land and declares he has never seen any place that could match it. This being the first time a big league team has trained here, the whole thing is, of course, more or less of an experiment.

It is also probable that other clubs may seek to come here, for the present experiment is being watched closely by them. One club planned to send its pitchers here this spring, and would have done so could they have found a suitable training ground.

Boy Hartwell, having been here in advance of the other players, is over the first painful stages of the training. He is hitting hard in practice. Boy claims the clear atmosphere here affected his batting only for a day or two until he became used to it. Now he can see the ball better than ever.

Milton Arthur and Willie Moore, of New York, are here with the Yankees fighting it out for the mascot job.

Vehicles and pedestrians turn to the left here in passing. Roy Hartwell got the signals mixed with a cyclist and just avoided a serious spill. A slight cut on a finger was all that Hartwell sustained.

Some of the players are finding it difficult to keep track of their finances. It is taking them a long time to learn the difference between a three pence and a six penny, a florin and a half a crown.

The Bermuda post being of coral substance, absorbs the rain almost as quickly as it falls. An hour after a rainfall the ground is entirely dry, so the Yankees look for mighty few postponed workouts.

The mascots and one scribe have petitioned Frank Chance to lift the ban on pie at the particular section of the training table they occupy but the P. L. hasn't given in yet.

The Yankees' manager intends to keep his well supplied with fresh fish by making weekly excursions to sea. The fish are plentiful and so large that not many are needed for a meal.

Chance is already one of the most popular men on the island. The Yankees' chief trainee is pointed out wherever he goes and fans visiting here from the United States frequently call on him to wish him luck.

The Yankees mascots are in training for a long distance eating contest, and threaten to bring about famine in camp.

The late arrivals haven't seen it rain here yet, and are of the opinion that it never does. It has been all blue skies and sunshine since they stepped ashore.

Geyer Finally Signs With Cardinals

Regulars and Recruits of the St. Louis Nationals Take Fancy to New Manager—Four Catchers Are Now With Team.

By W. J. O'CONNOR.

CLATMUS, GA., March 10.—Miller Huggins, the Cardinals' new manager, has won his second match in the all-comers holdout tournament. Jacobus Geyer, the Minnesota trapper, went down before the varied verbal attack of the new manager and "signed the papers."

Geyer isn't displeased with the outcome of his collision with Brennan's successor. Indeed, Jakle's classic mug wreathed smiles.

As predicted, no doubt now exists but that Huggins will rattle through

Tris Speaker Watches the Giants Practice

Infield Players in First Practice, Although a Bit Rusty, Look Better Than They Did in the World's Series.

By DAMON RUNYON.

MARLIN, Tex., March 10.—A notable incident in Marlin was Tris Speaker's friendly call on the Giants. Speaker is a well-known Texan who seriously interfered with the New York's world championship in the celebrated quarrel at Boston last October. He slammed out the hit that scored the tying run and put the winning run on third base, so he is quite well-known to McGraw's athletes.

Speaker was among those present at the final lineup of the Giants in 1912, and he witnessed the season's first fielding practice of McGraw's infield. Other persons who witnessed both performances claim the Giants looked better today, even if they are a bit rusty.

A Little Sport; A Little Gossip

WILLIE RITCHIE has refused an offer of $15,000 from a San Francisco promoter for a match on July 4. Billy Nolan, manager of Ritchie, telegraphed the promoter that they were going abroad and the bout will have to wait until they return. It was expected that Ritchie would accept the offer, especially as the promoter was planning to match him with Ad Wagner's athlete.

Kube Marquard, Fred Snodgrass and Terry Mann, a recruit pitcher, are the only Giants up to date who have not reported at the training camp. It is thought that Artie Shafer will be installed as the regular shortstop for the coming season. Shafer held the position before he was called away, and when he came back Arthur Fletcher was filling the job.

It is reported that Joe Rivers has put his O. K. on an arrangement whereby he will meet the winner of the Knockout Brown-Bud Anderson scrap, which is scheduled for March 15, at Los Angeles. The winner will be given a May date against Rivers.

Dan Morgan, manager of Knockout Brown and Jack Britton, has declared his intention of taking Britton to the Pacific coast to meet Rivers, Wolgast and Ritchie.

Representative Hilton, of Illinois, has issued a challenge to Parkey McFarland, for a bout to be staged before members of the legislature in Chicago. Hilton is an amateur boxer, and says that he is willing to receive most of the punches, but he can't convince the lawmakers that boxing is a clean, scientific sport and should be permitted in Illinois.

The Brooklyn Dodgers are busy at work in the training camp at Augusta, Ga. In a match between the scrubs and regulars the scrubs won by the score of 10 to 6. The regular pitchers, Tucker and Yonkling, had the best of their opponents in the twirl.

R. SCOTTEN WINS SWIMMING RACE FOR PEWEEES AT Y. M. C. A. R. Scotten made the best time in the Pewees class at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday afternoon in the 25 yards swimming race with a time of 20 seconds. B. Schuler came next with a record of two seconds less than that of Scotten, 18 seconds. In the Younger Boys' division, Fogarth equalled the time of the Regulars' division with a dash of 15 1/2 seconds. R. Gayford came in a close second with a time of 15 3/4 seconds. J. Biggs was retired the winner in the Older Boys' division with a time of 20 1/2 seconds. McDowd came next with a time of 23 1/2 seconds. The event this week will be the 50 yards on back race.

WARREN DISTRICT GRAYS TO REPRESENT BISBEE. Bisbee, Ariz., March 10.—The Warren District Grays, the team that will represent Bisbee in baseball this season, has now been organized. The first game will be played on March 15, when a double header is scheduled with Douglas and Warren. Games with Cananea, Tucson and El Paso are being arranged. The ball park has been extensively improved.

For the opening game mayor Williams will pitch the first ball, which will be batted and caught by two prominent mining men.

EL PASO RECRUITS PRACTICE AT PARK

Twenty Aspirants For Positions on El Paso Team That Will Play White Sox Get Down to Work.

Nearly a score of aspirants for positions on the El Paso baseball club turned out for the first practice of the spring season, Sunday afternoon at Washington Park. The park grounds are in bad condition and will need considerable dragging and rolling before the numerous holes in the surface can be filled. Beyond a little workout in batting and fielding for the players nothing was tried on account of the rough surface of the diamond.

Beginning next Saturday daily workouts will be held at the park, and by the time the Chicago club arrives, a well organized team will be ready to meet them. It is the opinion of manager Smith that after several workouts the players will get down to the grind and go after regular positions.

SIX AMATEUR TEAMS ARRANGE SCHEDULE

Arrangements have been completed for a six-circuit Amateur Baseball league, to play three games every Sunday by the officials of the former El Paso Amateur Baseball league. The games will be played, two in the forenoon and one in the afternoon. Twenty-four games will be played off on the schedule, the first match to start on March 21. At the meeting officers for the coming season were elected and installed. The following officers were elected: W. O'Brien, president; P. A. Kinson, treasurer; S. L. Schwartz, vice president and secretary.

The games will be played at the old grounds, on Texas street, which will be leveled off and dragged. The following teams have entered the league: Colts, Greys, Populists, Rio Grande Stars, Cleaners and the Gas team.

GRECIANS WIN GAME FROM ATHLETICS

The Grecians whipped the Athletics Sunday morning at the 1. & P. grounds by the score of 7 to 6. The Grecians are now winning in a straight row, having met but a single defeat since the season started. Willard occupied the mound for the Grecians. Following are the batteries: Grecians, Willard and Gibson; Athletics, Yellon and Kild.

ROSWELL WILL HAVE FOUR BALL TEAMS IN FIELD THIS YEAR. Roswell, N. M., March 10.—Everything looks good for lots of baseball in Roswell this season.

The Battery A boys will have a strong team to start the season with. The boys are having their tryout each Sunday morning.

There will be another soldier team—that of the New Mexico Military Institute in the field. A strong organization is in prospect for the season. The High school team will begin practice this week.

Numerous fans are endeavoring to launch a city team and a nifty bunch of good new material is promised. Clovis and Artesia have each announced that they will have good teams this year. The fact that these two valley towns will be in the diamond this year, gives hopes to the fans that there will be more doing in the sport this summer.

SILVER CITY BALL PLAYERS WILL START SEASON ON APRIL 1

Silver City, N. M., March 10.—Arrangements are being made to play the first baseball game at a meeting of fans, plans were made to arrange for paying off the slight indebtedness on the baseball grounds. Among the players Silver City has for this year are Eddie Ward, Freddie Down and Buckles, with a good prospect of securing John Barst, who used to be a twirler for the Denver team.

LEGISLATORS TO SEE FIGHT. Kenosha, Wis., March 10.—Officials of Illinois and Wisconsin and members of legislatures of both states investigating pending bills for boxing commissions have been invited to attend the bout here between Paul Moore of Philadelphia, and Charley White, of Chicago.

THE FOLLOWING SCORES WERE MADE IN THE ORR TROPHY EVENT:

|----------------|----|
| G. E. Rutledge | 75 |
| R. E. Pringle  | 67 |

| G. Martin      | 25 |
| C. B. Shank    | 50 |
| Blanco         | 42 |
| P. King        | 60 |
| Corning        | 65 |
| Baca           | 65 |

"SHIN SPLITS" PUT CHAMPION RUNNER ON SHELVE FOR PRESENT. New York, March 10.—Hannes Kolehmainen, the Finnish Olympic champion runner, who has recently been breaking records at amateur meets here, has temporarily broken down, according to reports in athletic circles. Constant pounding on board house has been used by small boys as a target for rifles and the building is now perforated with many small holes. G. E. Rutledge was high man with a credit of 75.

WHITE SOX WIN GAMES FROM OAKLAND AND SAN FRANCISCO. San Francisco, Calif., March 10.—The Chicago Americans won two more games Sunday, beating the Oakland team in Oakland 9 to 1, in the morning, and the San Francisco team in the afternoon game from the locals in San Francisco, 2 to 2.

Angels Lose Third Game. Los Angeles, Calif., March 10.—The second team of the Chicago Americans made it three out of four in the first series of pre-season training games by blanking Los Angeles, 12 to 6, Sunday.

THE SOLDIER AND THE QUEEN

Tales Told At the Ringside

By W. A. Phelon

BOMBARDIER WELLS, who has fought so well in England, and made so good an impression in America, is a tall and stately person, who, in martial gear, looks the part of a hero, a warrior and a British grenadier. Only one thing ails the Bombardier—excessive bashfulness. He can't express himself when being questioned; like many another big man, he goes to pieces, flushes up, and does not know what is happening in the conversational line—and this sad peculiarity, so they say, is responsible for his being out of the army and in the ring today.

Over in the barracks, they still tell with straining sides the tale of how the Bombardier passed from the legions of the king. It seems, so the story goes, that Wells, though skilled with the gloves and the army champion, had no thought of leaving the colors. He hoped some day to win the Victoria cross of courage, and to be a hero at the grand reviews. Just as he was dreaming of these glorious things, his lieutenant woke him up with a sharp tap on his arm.

"See here, Wells, my man," snapped the officer, "the queen is to review the regiment today. If she happens to see you—as she probably will, you being the tallest man in the ranks—she may pay you a compliment for the honor of the does, my man, for heaven's sake wake up and say something for the honor of your regiment! Don't be a numskull forever! Wake up and make a clever answer, you know, to your queen!" And the officer strode away, leaving the poor Bombardier frozen, stunned and in a whirl.

Only two hours later the queen rode along the glittering lines of red. Ere long she halted, her eye upon the gigantic Wells. Like the knell of doom, the royal voice came to the ears of the frightened Bombardier.

"What is your name, my lad?"

"Wells, your majesty. I—just plain Wells."

"Ah, yes, Wells. Private Wells, I am glad to see a man of such physique, such intelligence, such splendid appearance as is yours. You are a credit to your regiment and to the British flag. Let us hope, private Wells, that you will win glory and advancement in the future."

The brain of the poor Bombardier was revolving like a top. He knew he must say something appropriate, but what could he say? Suddenly through his skull thrilled the words of a foolish American ditty he had heard in the music halls. And before he could collect his senses, or realize what he was saying, he had grinned inanely at his sovereign, and shouted: "Good stuff, queen—you great, big beautiful doll!"

And Bombardier Wells was allowed to resign from the British army two days later.
